McPhail serving on constitution committee

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Hancock County's representative on the Constitution Committee is Evelyn McPhail of Diamondhead. The 300-member committee was set up by Mississippi Governor Bill Allain to make recommendations to the legislature for a new state constitution.

Bay utility billing cycles delayed

Bay St. Louis City Clerk Edward Favre reported that March utility bills for two areas of the city have been delayed due to a computer malfunction.

The delay will affect customers on billing cycles No. 1 and 2, which includes the area north of US-90 and part of the area of the third ward to Washington Street.

Favre said the city plans to get the remaining two cycles out on the proper schedule.

Louisiana man injured in accident

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
A Louisiana man was treated for scalp and face lacerations and cervical strain before being released from Hancock General Hospital Saturday morning after an accident on US-90.

Martin Boudreaux, 25, of 1844 Forshey St., Metairie, La. apparently lost control of his car and ran off the road.

Mississippi State Trooper David Kenny said Boudreaux was traveling at an excessive rate of speed when his vehicle left the road and hit a tree.

The accident happened one mile west of the intersection of US-90 and Highway 607.

Boudreaux was driving a 1985 Oldsmobile.

Kenny said Boudreaux had been charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after registering 4.2 on the breathalyzer used to measure alcohol intake.

contain," McPhail said. She added that the committee is bi-partisan and broad-based with representatives from across the state ranging from businessmen to homemakers.

McPhail also said she would present recommendations to the committee from anyone in Hancock County even if they did not coincide with her own opinions.

"I feel like I am representing Hancock County and would be more than happy to accept and present any recommendations," she added.

According to McPhail there are several reasons why a new constitution is needed but especially to help the economic growth of the state.

"We have had some very powerful Congressmen who have wielded enormous power but remain on the bottom in economic growth," she said.

"This must be attributed to the archaic constitution that limits our ability to expand economically," McPhail added.

The restrictions on industry by the framers of the constitution in 1890 are understandable when considering they were in the reconstruction period, she said.

But now these are enormous economic disadvantages for the state and are major factors that prevent industries from locating here, McPhail said.

"For example, the legislature can abolish a corporation with the stroke of a pen," McPhail said.

Large corporations do not want to locate where a legislature has that power even if it is not used, she added.

"The old constitution just does not give them the confidence that they will be able to operate as they see fit," she said.

Overall, McPhail said the state needs to start from scratch to draw up a new constitution.

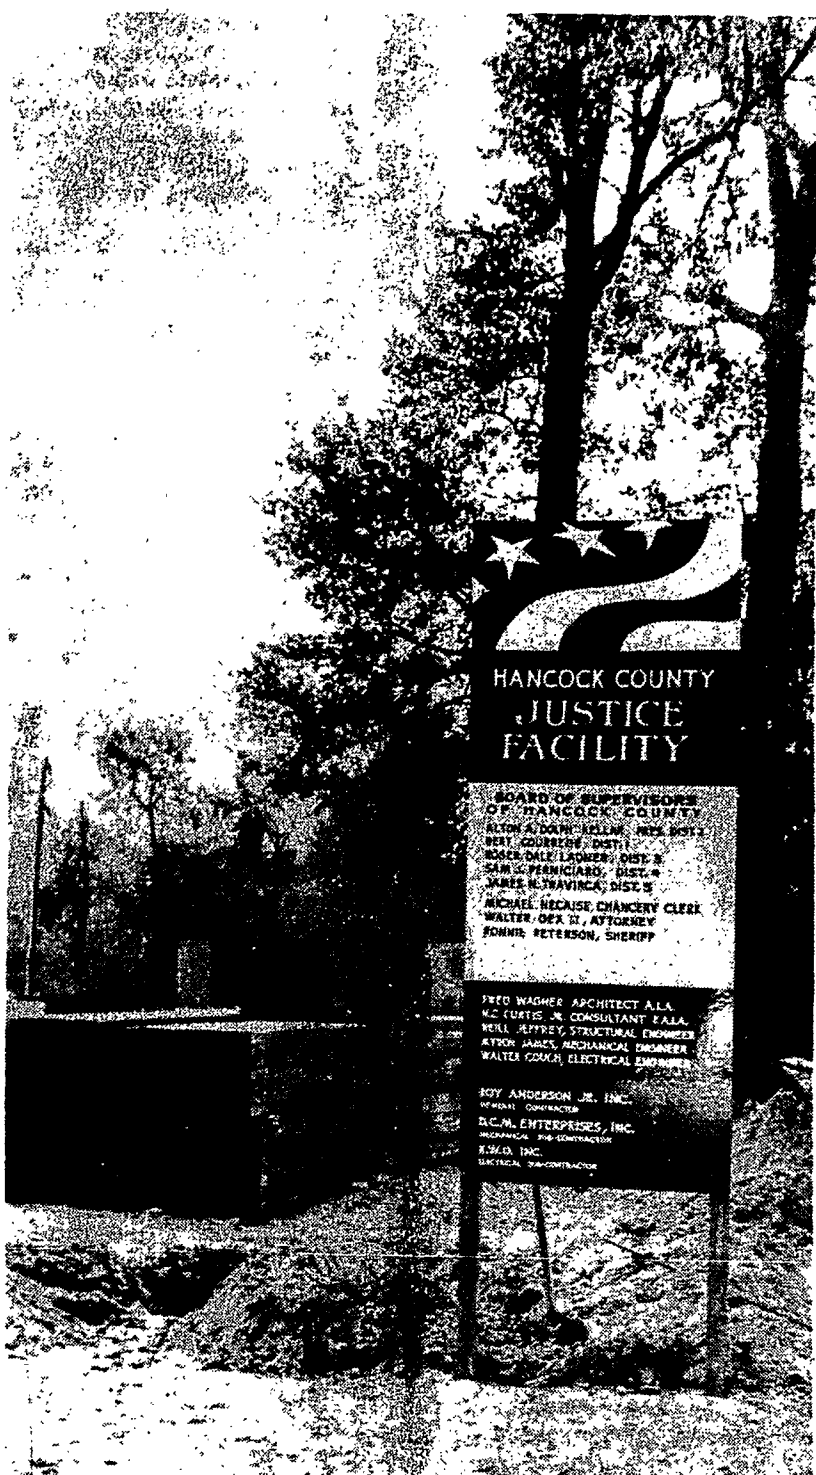

"There are already too many amendments, it just does not do much good to put patches on top of patches on rotten material," she said.

She also said many parts of the constitution which deal with the railroad are outdated but the document also completely fails to mention municipalities.

"We can still retain the good parts of the constitution but the bad must be eliminated," McPhail said.

The state can have the best of both worlds with a new constitution, she said.

"A new constitution will not solve all the state's problems but it will help and finally more and more people are realizing this," McPhail said.

CONSTRUCTION is proceeding on the replacement for the old Hancock County Jail. Architect Fred Wagner said Saturday the crews were even working on the weekends to rush the completion of the facility. Wagner also said the building will be called the Hancock County Justice Facility because it not only will house prisoners but offices for various law enforcement officers. ## Seven investigators working on Johnson Utilities problems

By DENA BISNETTE
Seven State Public Service Commission investigators are working on the Gulf Coast to insure that water systems owned by Johnson Utilities, Inc., of Vicksburg are repaired.

Southern District Public Service Commissioner Lynn Havens said Friday all seven of the district's investigators are now assigned to the Johnson case.

"We're absolutely living with them on a daily basis," Havens said about three full-time crews Johnson presently has assigned to repair the systems which serve coastal communities including Clermont Harbor, Jourdan River Shores, Oak Harbor subdivision near Pearlington, Henderson Point and Pass Christian Isles.

He said the investigators are overseeing "a lot of repair work" in addition to surveying consumers for each system on a daily basis.

The investigators select about six customers per system each day and check water pressure, chlorine content and other factors about which complaints have been received.

In addition, audits on the systems are in progress and most are about 75 percent complete. One audit that has been completed on Seashore Utilities, a Jackson County system, indicated $7,200 in erroneous late charges that will have to be refunded to customers, Havens said.

Effect of sewer ordinance to be limited in county

By DENA BISNETTE
A Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District ordinance designed to permit individual wastewater disposal systems may not cover as wide an area as anticipated.

The ordinance is presently being rewritten by District Board Attorney Lucien Gex to comply with changes requested by officials of the State Board of Health and Bureau of Pollution Control.

The changes will limit to five years the district's authority to permit several types of federally approved individual onsite wastewater treatment systems in areas where ground and water conditions make use of septic tanks unfeasible.

In addition, the ordinance may be enforced for existing buildings in addition to new construction.

The ordinance was originally proposed after local realtors complained that they had become unable to buy or sell any property with federal financing in areas where the Board of Health will no longer approve septic tanks.

According to Barry Royals of Bureau of Pollution Control, the ordinance will probably not offer the realtors quite as much assistance as expected unless the wastewater district and the county board of supervisors provide plans for future sewerage.

Four subdivisions, including Shoreline Park, Jourdan River Shores, Jourdan River Estates and Garden Isles, have already been targeted for future sewerage systems.

The subdivisions are included in a US Environmental Protection Agency grant project currently underway.

The project will link the Waveland and Bay St. Louis sewerage systems, expand the treatment plant at Waveland and extend sewerage to the four subdivisions, which were selected because of location and population density.

Board of Health District Sanitarian Kathy Beam said her agency will accept the authority of the wastewater district to enforce the ordinance "as long as it is a temporary solution" for any part of the county south of Interstate 10 as long as it is also accepted by the Bureau of Pollution Control.

Royals said the bureau will not initially be able to accept the or-inance outside the cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis and the four subdivisions.

"We have no problem accepting it as long as there is some type of plan for sewerage," Royals explained.

Any plan for the county would have to be worked out between the board of supervisors and the wastewater district.

"We told them that if they want to have this program in the county, they will have to do some type of planning. We don't mind expanding this thing as long as they have a plan showing where and how sewerage will be implemented and from where the finances for it will be derived," Royals said.

"Even if they were to come to us saying that they want a special utility district with a resolution to that effect signed by the supervisors, wastewater board and local legislators, it would be taken as a good faith effort and we could move this thing forward," he added.

Royals said he had been told by Board of Supervisors President A.A. Kellar, who represents the county on the wastewater district board, that the county presently has no funds available.

He stressed that the funding does not have to be immediately available as long as some plan for it is provided.

In addition, the county and wastewater district would have to define in some way what factors would trigger the beginning of development of a sewerage system.

According to Royals, the district is currently advertising for bids on specific plans for the subdivisions and could have plans for the remainder of the county south of I-10 provided as well by whatever firm is hired.

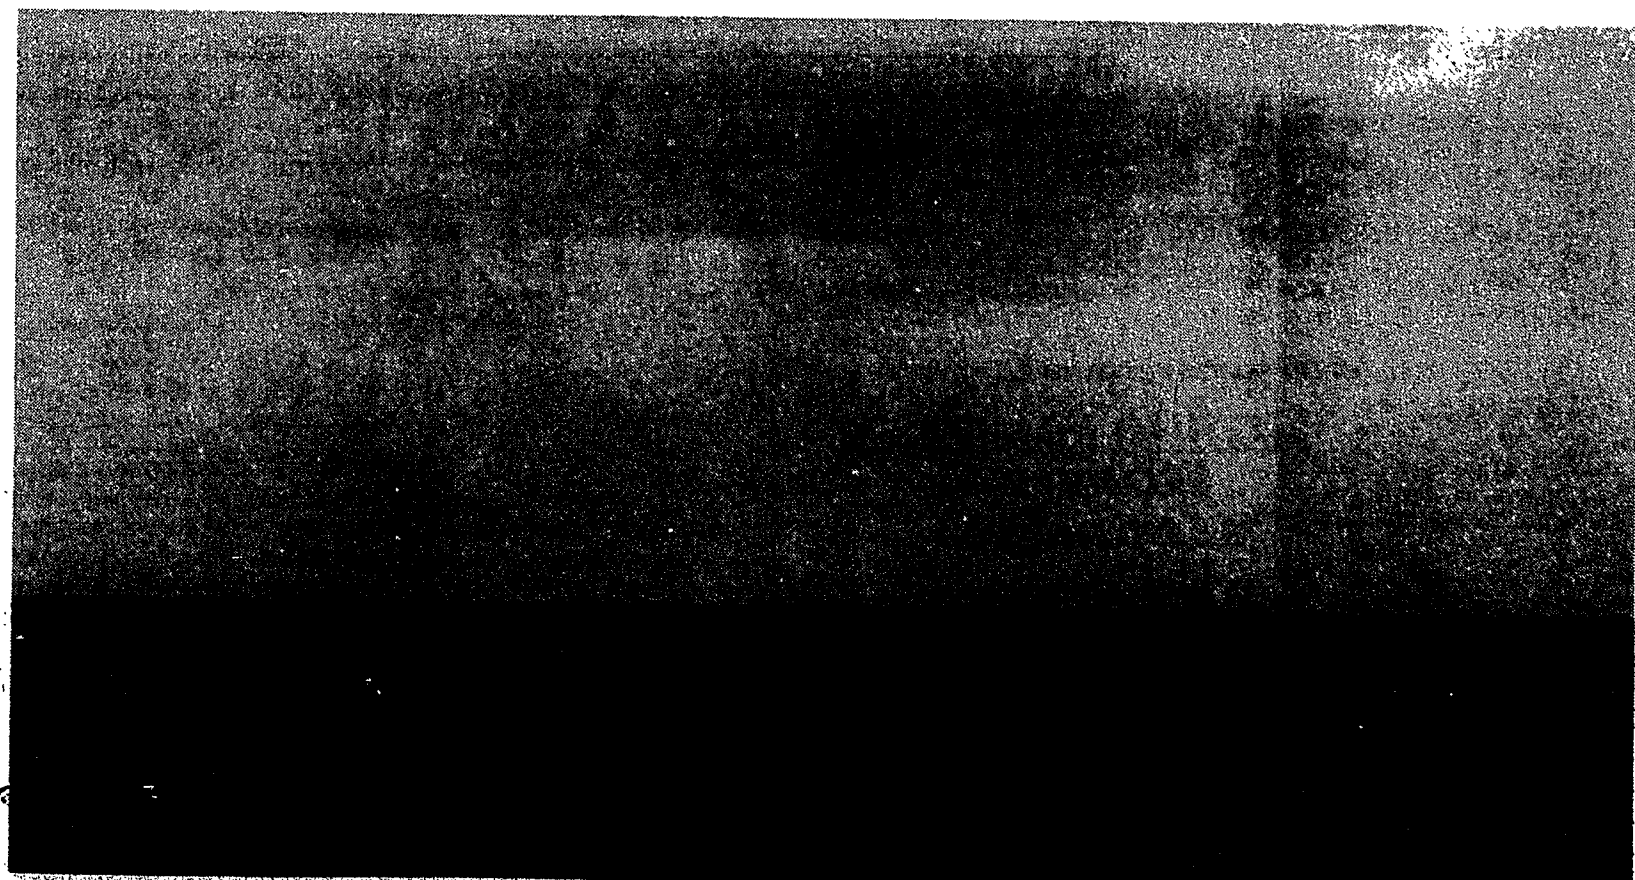

The additional planning, however, would not be eligible for government funding.

"It just comes down to an issue here of whether or not the leadership

Planning Commission grants variance to Ladner's seafood

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Planning Commission has approved a flood zone variance for remodeling at Terry's Seafood at Bayou Cadet. The variance was requested at Thursday's commission meeting by Terry Ladner, who said he plans to change the location of the office in his business along with additional remodeling that will provide more storage space. The commission also agreed to assist Ladner in his efforts to obtain flood insurance at a reasonable cost. The commission has had discussed problems Ladner has had obtaining insurance because of his Bayou Cadet location when representatives of National Flood Insurance Program and Federal Emergency Management Agency visited the county.

Ladner said he had been contacted by both agencies and that their representatives are assisting him.

In other business, the commission discussed but took no action concerning an ordinance proposed by the Waveland Regional Wastewater management District. The ordinance, if approved, will grant the district the authority to permit several types of individual onsite wastewater disposal systems where septic tanks are not usable.

The commission is expected to become involved in the inspection stage when and if the ordinance becomes effective, since it will apply to new construction in several parts of the county.

Moratorium declared on sinking barges

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Mobile District has declared a moratorium on the practice of sinking barges for the purpose of creating a fixed mooring structure throughout the district.

The ban will remain in effect approximately 18 months from the date of a public notice issued Feb. 27.

The practice of sinking barges as mooring structures has been questioned by State and Federal commenting agencies and the public.

At issue is the direct loss of productive shallow water bottoms and the cumulative impacts of such losses.

Other secondary impacts, both beneficial and adverse, are under consideration as well. The results of the study will be applied to preparation of guidelines for barge floating in Mobile District.

Any questions should be directed to the Regulatory Branch, Operations Division, U.S. Army Engineer District - Mobile, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Ala. 36628-0001; telephone (205) 690-2658.

Former teacher-coach seeks county school board post

A former teacher, coach and athletic director will seek the Beat 1 position on the Hancock County School Board in a November election.

Frank Miller, 40, a Hancock County native and graduate of Bay Senior High, is currently employed by Brown & Root as an industrial electrician at the Du Pont Delisle Plant.

He attended PRC and holds a bachelor of science degree in health and physical education from McNeese State University. He taught and coached 10 years — two years in a parochial school and eight years in public schools.

In addition to his past experience as a teacher, coach and athletic director, he has attended Hancock County School Board meetings regularly during the past year as a parent and taxpayer.

He is presently president of the Gulfview Booster Club and has held various positions in the club over the past five years.

The candidate is a member of St. John-St. Ann Catholic Churches, and resides in Bayside Park with his wife, the former Judy Oliver. They have two children, Frank Miller Jr., 16, a junior at HNC, and Steve Miller, 13, a seventh grader at Gulfview.

"Because of my experience as a teacher, coach, athletic director and parent I feel that these qualifications will enable me to keep a positive approach in all school board decisions."

"As a member of the school board, parent and taxpayer, I will work hard to improve the quality of our education and see to it that we receive the best value for our tax dollars."

"Your support and vote will be greatly appreciated in the November election," Miller said.

MSU statewide survey finds support for lottery, seat belts

State residents support a lottery, compulsory seat-belt law and gubernatorial succession, according to a statewide public opinion poll conducted recently at Mississippi State University.

Seventy-two percent of adult Mississippians supported a state lottery with income generated used to help public elementary, secondary and higher education. Twenty-three percent opposed the lottery and 5 percent had no opinion.

The telephone poll of 611 residents was conducted Feb. 17-26 by the Survey Research Unit of the Social Science Research Center at MSU. Since some Mississippians do not own a telephone, the sample was weighted by demographic characteristics so that all demographic groups were represented in proportion to their presence in the population.

The sample error for a survey with 611 respondents is +5 percent.

"A significant 69 percent of Mississippians supported a proposed state law that would require that people in the front seat of cars use their seat belts," said survey director Stephen Shaffer. "Only 27 percent opposed the proposed law and 4 percent had no opinion."

Bills which would establish a state lottery and require the use of seat belts died recently in the Legislature.

Shaffer, associate professor of political science, said major support was also found for a constitutional amendment that would permit a governor to serve two terms in a row.

"Seventy-five percent of Mississippians said they support such a gubernatorial succession amendment, with only 19 percent opposed and 6 percent having no opinion," he said.

A succession amendment recently passed in the Legislature and will be voted on in a November referendum. Shaffer said widespread support for gubernatorial succession, a compulsory seat-belt law and a state lottery was found in all age, education, income, sex, race, geographic, residential (years lived in the state), partisan and ideological groups.

"Among those offering opinions," he said, "support for gubernatorial succession reached as high as 88 percent for residents of the Third Congressional District and 87 percent of those with some college education."

"It fell no lower than 72 percent of Republicans and Fourth Congressional District residents."

As for a compulsory seat-belt law, Shaffer said support ranged as high as 80 percent for those 30 years of age and under and self-identified liberals, and fell no lower than 64 percent for Republicans and 63 percent for those over 60 years of age.

Questioned about their opinion on a state lottery, Shaffer said positive replies reached the 80 percentages for liberals, the college-educated, Fourth Congressional District residents and residents of the state for less than 15 years.

The lowest levels of support for the lottery came from self-identified conservatives (61 percent) and from Republicans and those over 60 years of age (both 64 percent).

"These poll results suggest that the gubernatorial succession amendment to the state constitution will be easily ratified by the voters," Shaffer said.

"Our 1981 statewide poll," he continued, "demonstrated that 60 percent of Mississippians supported gubernatorial succession, so support for succession has grown, presumably because people feel they should have the right to vote to re-elect a good governor who then would have more time in office to help the state in areas like attracting industry."

Mississippians support a compulsory seat belt law, Shaffer said, "presumably because they feel it is a relatively non-intrusive and inexpensive way of saving lives."

Support of the state lottery exists "presumably because of the public's desire to help education — for which the money would be earmarked — and because of a belief that a lottery will help generate money for revenue-starved government."

FARM sponsors 'Great American Meatout'

On March 20, Americans will be asked to kick the meat habit for one day in observance of the second annual Great American Meatout.

The date itself is significant because it's the first day of Spring—a day symbolic of renewal and rebirth.

The event, patterned after the American Cancer Society's successful Great American Smokeout, is designed to "reduce the national consumption of meat and thereby mitigate the destructive effects on intensive animal agriculture on consumer health, world agricultural resources, environmental quality, and animal welfare."

"Meat balances our diet by contributing to our daily dose of saturated fat, cholesterol, hormones, antibiotics, pesticides, and other hazardous substances," said television personality Bob Barker, the Meatout's national chairman.

"Also, meat production involves the abuse of millions of 'feeling animals' on U.S. factory farms and gross damage to our natural resources. We recommend that Americans use the Great American Meatout as a golden opportunity to reconsider their violent diet, to kick the meat habit, and to start a new life," Barker added.

Meatout supporters in 26 major cities throughout the United States will be distributing wallet-sized "Meat Facts" folders, which detail the major problems of meat consumption and production, with helpful "Quit Tips."

Each year, according to FARM, nearly 1.5 million Americans are stricken by chronic diseases that have been linked with the excessive consumption of animal products.

Raising these animals for food uses up to 90 percent of our agricultural resources, depletes soil and groundwater, destroys forests and wildlife habitats, and causes water pollution.

The Farm Animal Reform Movement (FARM) Washington, D.C., is the principal sponsor of the event.

Quotables by Cuevas

The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Memorial Pier has been restored from damages created by Hurricanes Elena and Jaun at a considerable cost to the post.

A formal dedication is scheduled for Saturday, March 15.

The pier and launch is primarily for recreational and not commercial use.

The Executive Committee on Thursday discussed at length about the primary use of the facility for recreation only.

The opening of the oyster reef in front of the pier has brought in a lot of commercial craft, and the legion has received reports of some commercial activities going on at the dock.

This is not the intention of the American Legion.

Reports have also been received of boats being tied to the pier, and that is not what it has been designed for, as it's only use is for recreation fishing.

The Legion does not object to commercial fishermen launching and taking out their boats.

It is hoped the commercial fishermen will keep this in mind.

The Annual Mississippi Spring Pilgrimage is fast approaching our area.

This is a good time for local residents to do some spring cleaning of their premises.

We know our many Garden Club members will really appreciate a clean county for the Pilgrimage.

The Pilgrimage for NASA and the Mississippi Welcome Center is set for March 26, Bay-Waveland, March 27 and Diamondhead, March 28.

April 1 is fast approaching and there are some 800 residents who have not applied for Homestead Exemption as yet, according to Eddie Murtagh, Hancock County Tax Collector-Assessor.

This is just a reminder for persons who have not filed and are qualified, as it could cost them many dollars.

We are in a very dry condition due to a lack of rain in recent weeks.

The State of Mississippi has placed a ban on burning, so we hope everyone will honor it.

Fines for burning can be very stiff, and if you have any questions we recommend you check with the fire department serving your area.

AGRICULTURE APPRECIATION WEEK

The week of March 16 through 21 has been named 'Agriculture Appreciation Week,' and Friday, March 21, has been designated 'Farmer of the Year Day,' in accordance with a proclamation I have signed.

The proclamation follows a joint announcement by the Mississippi Network and the Department of Agriculture and Commerce regarding the sponsorship of an annual 'Farmer of the Year Award,' with the honored farmer of 1986 to be announced at a dinner held at Mississippi State University on March 21.

Present during the signing of the proclamation were Steve Davenport, president of Mississippi Network; John Winfield, the network's farm director; Jim Buck Ross, commissioner of agriculture and commerce; Tommy Thompson and Don McGraw, representing Mississippi Chemical Company; Truitt Grubbs, representing Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service; and Don Short and Bill Wasser, representing Shell Chemical.

The award, which has been designated by the Department of Agriculture and Commerce as Mississippi's official recognition of individual agricultural excellence, is being sponsored by the Mississippi Network in cooperation with a number of state and national agribusiness groups and business organizations, several of which were represented at the signing ceremony.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

If we sell vehicles and jewelry taken in drug busts, why destroy machines taken in gambling raids?

Dear Editor,

Recently you have published quite a lot about the confiscation of the slot machines at the VFW and DAV by the Bay police department in January in efforts to 'crack down' on gambling.

I feel this effort, to be truthful, is a far cry from controlling crime in this area.

Real crimes to be concerned about are drug dealers who sell drugs to our children, the child molesters and sick adults who have incestual relationships with their own children, the drunken drivers who kill innocent people on the roads, murderers and thieves and I could go on.

My feelings on this issue of bingo and slot machines are this: I see no harm in bingo and slot machines as it provides entertainment for these veterans and DAV's and citizens who look forward to the trips to the bingo halls and being with their friends each week and spending what little money this entertainment costs.

Bingo monies also keep some of our area schools running a lot smoother!

It is certainly not a harmful issue to our area and absolutely no great crime or gambling problem!

To destroy these machines when we could obtain some revenue from the sale of them is ludicrous!

Cars and jewelry are sold when they are confiscated in drug raids and the money placed in the general fund for the county.

I personally would like to see these machines returned to their original places, but the act is done.

Since this is a city effort in controlling gambling, the city officials should vote on what to do with these machines.

One can pick up the paper any day and read of some money shortage the city has!

The money from the sale of these machines could be used for covering some of the expenses taken out of city funds.

Thank you for the opportunity to express my views on this issue.

Chamber cites all involved in beach cleanup day

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce would like to commend the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, the Hancock County Extension Service and the Sand Beach Technical Advisory Council for their efforts in making "Hancock County Clean Our Beach Day" such an enormous success.

More than 400 devoted people, both permanent residents and weekenders, turned out Feb. 22 in the drizzling rain to help pick up the broken glass and trash on the beach.

Generating that amount of public involvement in a community-wide project is a tremendous undertaking. The chamber applauds your accomplishments.

There are others who deserve recognition for their devotion to this project: Mayor Victor Frankiewicz, Mayor John Longo and the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland for their fair share; the students from St. Clare and Hancock North Central who participated in the poster contest; and, last but definitely not least, the general public, who without their generous donation of time, none of this would have been possible.

The chamber recognizes all of you for a job well done.

Sincerely,
Dick Thomas
President
Hancock County
Chamber of Commerce

Fever signals illness

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

Fever, contrary to popular belief, is not an enemy. In fact, it is a helpful warning that something is wrong with the body. It is not the fever itself but the cause of the fever which presents the danger.

There are many old wives' tales and myths surrounding fever. One of these is that the seriousness of the illness is indicated by how high the fever is. This is not the case, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association. In fact, some of the most serious children's diseases carry low-grade fevers or no fevers at all, and some of the less severe illnesses record very high temperatures.

Another myth is that lowering the fever will make the child less sick. However, lowering a fever does make a child more comfortable and, in some cases, becomes a medical necessity. To bring a fever down, doctors usually recommend administering the specified dosage of aspirin or an aspirin substitute if the child is not allergic to it, giving the child a rubdown with tepid water, and/or placing the child in a cool bath.

Although fever can cause convulsions, about 90 percent of all children never suffer one. And the remaining 10 percent rarely occur in children over two to three years of age. Moreover, a child is seldom injured during a convulsion of only a few minutes duration which terminates spontaneously. If any type of convulsion does occur, however, a physician should be notified.

It is also necessary to make certain that a child who has a fever receives large amounts of fluids since a sick child often refuses to eat or drink. This lack of fluid intake, in addition to the drain on body fluids produced by the fever, can result in dehydration.

Remember, fever is a signal of an illness and as such should always be investigated.

Employ the Older Worker Week designated nationally

March 9-15 has been designated "National Employ the Older Worker" week.

The Mississippi State Employment Service, as it has since 1959, is joining the American Legion, state and area agencies on aging, the National Council on Aging, Senior Community Service Employment Program projects, Hancock Senior Job Registry and other organizations to use this occasion to encourage hiring of older workers.

Not only will the older worker benefit from being gainfully employed but the employer will realize the advantage of having a proven reliable worker with a world of practical experience and an established track record.

All employers are urged to take advantage of this valuable resource.

To find out how you might benefit from using older employees contact the nearest office of your Mississippi State Employment Service or one of the other agencies mentioned above.

Offices of the Mississippi State Employment Service are located at Valena C. Jones Building in Bay St. Louis.

The Hancock Senior Job Registry, coordinated by Jim Widmark, is located in the Russell Youth Court Building, 126 Court St., Bay St. Louis. Call 467-5077 for information.

The Job Registry serves both employers and employees, Widmark pointed out.

Driver fitness urged for accident prevention

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

Auto accidents don't just happen. They are caused.

An overwhelming proportion of them are caused by the human element. Sometimes this human element involves a driver with a physical or emotional condition that makes him a less than ideal driver.

You are in good health. You have an excellent safety record. Yet, under certain circumstances, it can be dangerous for you to be in the driver's seat, the Mississippi State Medical Association points out.

The emotional stability of the driver is important in maintaining traffic safety. You owe it to others—and to yourself—not to drive when you have serious problems on your mind.

If you are thinking about that argument you had before you left your home or office; if you're in a depressed or angry "I-don't-care-what-happens" mood; if you're very worried about a personal problem...you're better off not driving.

The sleepy driver causes many accidents. In fact, a sleepy driver is as much of a hazard as a drinking one.

Dozing at the wheel can occur in broad daylight as well as at night. On long auto trips, stop every two hours for a break. If you feel drowsy, pull up and rest.

Many medicines can affect the way you handle the wheel. Antihistamines, cold tablets and mild sedatives may dull your reflexes or impair your coordination. Stimulants can make you nervous. Tranquilizing drugs can cloud your judgment.

It goes without saying that alcohol and gasoline are a dangerous combination. You don't have to be drunk to be dangerous. Even a small amount of alcohol can impair judgment and reactions of many persons.

Driving demands clear, healthy eyesight, side vision, judgment of distance and the ability to see well at night. Have your eyes tested regularly. If you use glasses for distance vision, don't forget to wear them when you drive.

If you have a nervous disorder, or a heart condition, or diabetes, ask your doctor whether you are a safe driver. This also applies as you get older. Past 65, reflexes and coordination tend to be a little slower.

The People's Business

Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

WHO'S GOING TO HANDLE OUR HAZARDOUS WASTE?

Some legislators may have changed their minds about the disposal of hazardous wastes materials in Mississippi.

Now we need a few more minds changed on that issue.

It is recognized that more than 900 generators of hazardous waste materials are operating in the State of Mississippi, with more than three million, nine hundred thousand tons of hazardous waste materials being produced in the state each year.

Yet the 1985 Legislature enacted laws which prohibited commercial land disposal of hazardous waste materials in Mississippi. In effect, the law said there would be no hazardous waste disposal sites in this state.

Business firms looking at Mississippi for possible expansion of their waste disposal operations promptly began to look elsewhere.

Mississippi, with 900 hazardous waste generators, would allow no responsible hazardous waste handler to enter the state. Mississippi's generators would be on their own. Keep in mind, we are referring to 'hazardous' waste, not 'nuclear' waste.

Suddenly...a change in mind. Five members of the House of Representatives introduced a resolution in the 1986 session declaring that even though hazardous waste disposal sites were outlawed last year, "such enactment should not be interpreted so as to discourage development of safe waste management systems."

The resolution went on to say that the waste management industry "is recognized as a resource and asset necessary for the continued economic growth of our state" and "the Legislature invites and encourages private interests to develop waste management systems within the state."

Unfortunately for the economic advancement of the state, the resolution died in a committee of the House. Apparently there are still minds to be changed about the value of a responsible hazardous waste disposal operator in Mississippi.

The prohibition of hazardous waste disposal facilities simply curbs the state's economic development.

Who's going to accept our waste materials in the years to come if we don't provide for disposal ourselves?

Legislative Update

By Rosa Lee H. Jones

Gov. Bill Allain presented a joint session of the legislature with an itemized cost-cutting list Wednesday as an alternative to raising taxes.

The next day, the Senate passed a bill that could possibly increase state income taxes, and the House rejected Allain's request to strip funding to the state public radio system.

By passing a one-cent a pack tax on cigarettes, the Senate left open the possibility that other taxes, such as gasoline, income and utility taxes might be raised.

The cigarette tax itself will raise $3 million of the $81 million the state will lose to declining federal oil and gas revenues during fiscal year 1987, which begins in July. Other provisions in the bill, such as selling the state jet and transferring unencumbered money from state agencies and oil and gas revenues, will bring in about $40 million.

Allain's pitch to revive College Board recommendations to close two universities and two professional schools in order to save money apparently fell on deaf ears, legislators said.

A bill to lower the margin of voter approval needed to pass a school bond from 60 to 55 percent was killed in the House on Tuesday. State Superintendent of Education Richard Boyd said the loss will make it harder for financially strapped school districts to fund kindergartens. A resolution has been filed by several House members who want to suspend the rules and file a bill to put off the kindergarten program.

Ten northwest counties should be allowed to levy a one-cent sales tax to finance the four-lane of US-61 from Merigold to the Tennessee line, the House said Thursday.

Two thousand students, faculty and alumni rallying in downtown

Jackson didn't deter the Senate Appropriations Committee from endorsing a Joint Legislative Budget Committee recommendation that 21 percent be cut from on-campus higher education funds for next year.

State Highway Department funding died Thursday when the House refused to consider a plan to divert $11 million in highway dollars into the state general fund.

If two-thirds of the House and Senate agree to suspend the rules, the highway bill will be brought back up.

Allain called the vote a step toward his goal of putting the highway budget into the state general fund, where it would be subject to cuts along with the budgets of other state agencies.

The House defeated a cost-cutting bill that would have trimmed the size of the legislature by more than 20 percent. The bill would have cut the Senate from 52 to 30 members and the House from 122 to 105.

In January, the Senate approved a similar measure that would have trimmed the legislature even more, down to 42 in the Senate and 84 in the House. Thirty-six other states have fewer legislators, including Arkansas, Tennessee and Alabama.

VOTING RECORDS FOR THE SENATE (through Feb. 27)

SB2034
The Senate had a midnight deadline on Thursday, Feb. 27, to introduce legislation with the purpose of raising taxes. Senators generally agreed they don't favor a major tax increase at this time but this bill, which is considered a token tax bill, basically kept alive the option of considering a tax increase at a later time. Yea - 31, Nay - 20, Absent/Not Voting - 1, Taylor - Nay, Smith (47) - Yea.
SB2053

This appropriations bill funds the Institutions of Higher Learning. It put $131.6 million into general funds and $89.3 into special funds. It was passed on the morning roll call (which means it passed unanimously). The vote of interest came on an amendment proposed by Senator Lambert. This amendment proposed restoring $17.2 million to Universities and Colleges. It failed. Yea - 10, Nay - 42, Taylor - Nay, Smith (47) - Nay.

VOTING RECORDS HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES (through Feb. 27)

NOTE: A resolution was filed Wednesday in the House that suspending legislative rules and allow a bill to put off the kindergarten program. This resolution will have to win support from two-thirds of both chambers and has not been scheduled for debate.

Signers of the Resolution are Townsend, Scott, D. R. Anderson (89th), Garvin, Malone, Stringer, Netherland, Morrow, J. D. Green (33rd), Easley, Bowles, McCrary, Price, and Wilburn.
SB2057

This bill which had previously passed the Senate would have reduced the size of the legislature. It failed in the House. Yea - 59, Nay - 62, Absent - 1, Phillips - Nay.
HB1

This bill would have reduced the votes necessary for the passage of a school bond issue from 60 percent to 55 percent. It had been considered several times and held on various motions. Barring a suspension of the rules, this is the final vote on the measure. It failed. (Needed 2/3). Yea - 63, Nay - 58, Absent - 1, Phillips - Yea.
HB1274

This bill is the funding legislation for Mississippi Educational Television. It was brought up first on Tuesday. Meredith introduced an amendment that would kill the program 'Mississippi Week' which invites the Capitol press corps members to discuss issues. It failed. The bill was brought up for passage on Wednesday. It passed, but was held on a motion to reconsider. It came back up on Thursday when an amendment was proposed to withhold funding for the radio division of the agency, Public Radio in Mississippi. It failed. The vote was: Yea - 47, Nay - 73, Absent/Not Voting - 2, Phillips - Yea.
Final passage was: Yea - 112, Nay - 9, Absent - 1, Phillips - Yea.

These three bills provided funding for state hospitals.
HB1290 - Kuhn Memorial Hospital Yea - 88, Nay - 34, Phillips - Yea.
HB1291 - Matty Hersee Hospital Yea - 87, Nay - 34, Absent - 1, Phillips - Yea.

HB1292 - South Mississippi State Hospital Yea - 90, Nay - 32, Phillips - Yea.
HB1289

The House failed to suspend the rules to consider the appropriation bill for the Highway Department. This leaves the Highway Department without funding beginning July 1 unless two-thirds of both houses vote to suspend the rules and allow this bill to be considered. Yea - 46, Nay - 73, Absent - 2, Present - 1, Phillips - Nay.
SB2239

This bill reenacts the wholesale sales tax on meat. The funds would be used to fund meat checks in processing plants. Yea - 80, Nay - 40, Absent - 1, Present - 1, Phillips - Nay.
HB1190

This bill allows ten counties in Northwest Mississippi to levy taxes to four-lane Highway 61. It passed 117-2. Voting nay were Hanson and D. Robinson (20th).

Score members briefed on NASA procurement opportunities

Score members meeting last week at NASA were urged by John W. Viger, deputy procurement officer, to focus their individual counseling on the many marketing opportunities available to Gulf Coast small businesses.

"Score can assist prospective contractors in filling out necessary forms to get on bidders' lists. This is a very important step in the marketing process," said Viger.

Some Score members voiced complaints by small companies of the delay in being paid for their services. Assurances of prompt payment by the Government were made by NASA officials.

Score is a volunteer group of men and women, sponsored by the Small Business Administration, who have successfully completed their active business careers and now offer their services without pay to help small business people and community organizations with management problems.

Chairman Lucian Gilbert of the Gulf Coast Score Chapter extends an invitation to anyone interested in doing business with the Government to contact Score at the SBA office, 863-4449.

Hawks downed 32-26 by Poplarville team

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Senior Hawk player Charles Burton showed the Poplarville High School Hornets just how easy the long scoring runs were Friday night when he tallied with four TD runs in the spring football game.

With runs of 74, 56, 61 and 90 yards, Burton averaged a gain of 70 yards on the four scoring runs which included a kickoff return.

Hancock North Central Coach Irvin Favre said he was not surprised with Burton's performance because he knows how capable a runner Burton is.

"Burton had an outstanding night, finding the right place to get through and never slowing down," Favre said.

Although the Hancock North Central team did tally 26 points, their opponents were able to overcome a fledgling Hawk defense and outscore them by six points.

Favre said the defense did not play very well basically because there were five starters out and before the game was over three other players were down with injuries.

"This experience shows us what we have to do when practice begins this summer to be ready for the fall season," he added.

Burton's first score came on the heels of a Poplarville touchdown. He took the kickoff return 90 yards downfield to tie the score. The PAT was no good.

Poplarville took the lead again in the second quarter with a score but were unable to score the extra point.

The Hawks also scored on their next possession with Burton taking a handoff from Quarterback Brett Favre to begin a 61-yard TD play. Tim Cox kicked the extra point and the Hawks were ahead.

Taking only one turn with the ball to score again the Hornets moved out in front 20-13 with a two-point conversion.

Unsuccessful drives in the third quarter left the score unchanged going into the final quarter where the Hornets widened their lead with another touchdown bringing the score to 20-32.

With Burton's 56-yard scoring run and Tim Prince's extra point kick, the Hawks increased their score to 20.

The final Hawk touchdown was the 74-yard run by Burton.

Under-8 (played Waveland Civic League Field)
American Legion Post 77 "Scrappers" traveled to Gulfport Saturday, March 1, to participate in the "Great Day of Soccer." Coach Pat Corbell stated that the entire team scored exceptionally well on the overall skill drills.

Later that afternoon the Scrappers returned home to play Pat's Chevron to a 1-1 tie.

Early in the second quarter, Ellen Felder of Chevron drilled one past Nicholas Saucier for the first score in the game. Fired up in the third quarter, the Scrappers got a break on a direct goal kick taken by Ty McMichael and the score was 1-1.

Coach Corbell stated that the intensity of both teams was "phenomenal."

Ty McMichael and Nicholas Saucier were named most outstanding players for the week for the Scrappers.

Coca-Cola defeated Nell Frisbie, Inc. 2-0.

McDonald Realty topped Rotary Club 6-0. McDonald Realty remains undefeated this season.

of Hancock County wants to see the area continue to grow and prosper. It's going to take a lot of effort, a lot of construction and a lot of money," Royals said.

At its Wednesday meeting, the wastewater district board approved the changes in the ordinance and discussed the possibility that the Bureau of Pollution control might not recognize the district's permitting authority for the entire area south of I-10, but offered no provisions at that time for planning or financing sewerage outside the four subdivisions.

The board also agreed to hire Hemphill Construction for pipeline construction on Segment II of the grant project.

In addition, the board approved payment of $15,000 for a parcel of property adjacent to the Waveland treatment plant. The property will be used for plant expansion in a later phase of the grant project, as well as for a buffer zone between the plant and nearby residences.

Stained glass display to be featured on tour

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Stained glass creations by Peter Ewait will be featured at the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's Leonard Avenue Garden Center during the Bay St. Louis Tour Thursday, March 27.

The tour, sponsored by the club, is a part of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs 39th Annual Spring Pilgrimage.

Ewait, who started working with stained glass as a hobby, now owns and operates a business which specializes in stained, beveled and etched glass on South Second Street in Bay St. Louis.

He has been doing stained glass for eight years.

"In the stained glass area, I like to specialize in doing dimensional stained glass panels where the glass is layered and constructed to give the piece a multi-dimensional appearance," Ewait said.

In addition to the work to be featured at the Garden Center, Ewait's work is visible in several businesses and residences in the Garden District in New Orleans.

He was also commissioned to design and create major pieces for the Casa Grande Condominiums located on St. Charles Avenue in New Orleans.

Ewait is currently working on a five-piece entrance way for the Edmond Fahey Funeral Home and a piece designed for the law office of Attorney Nicholas Haas.

Also included in Ewait's credits are several pieces for residences in Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead.

Ewait also offers classes to those interested in the craft. He teaches construction of both stained and beveled glass at the studio in the shop.

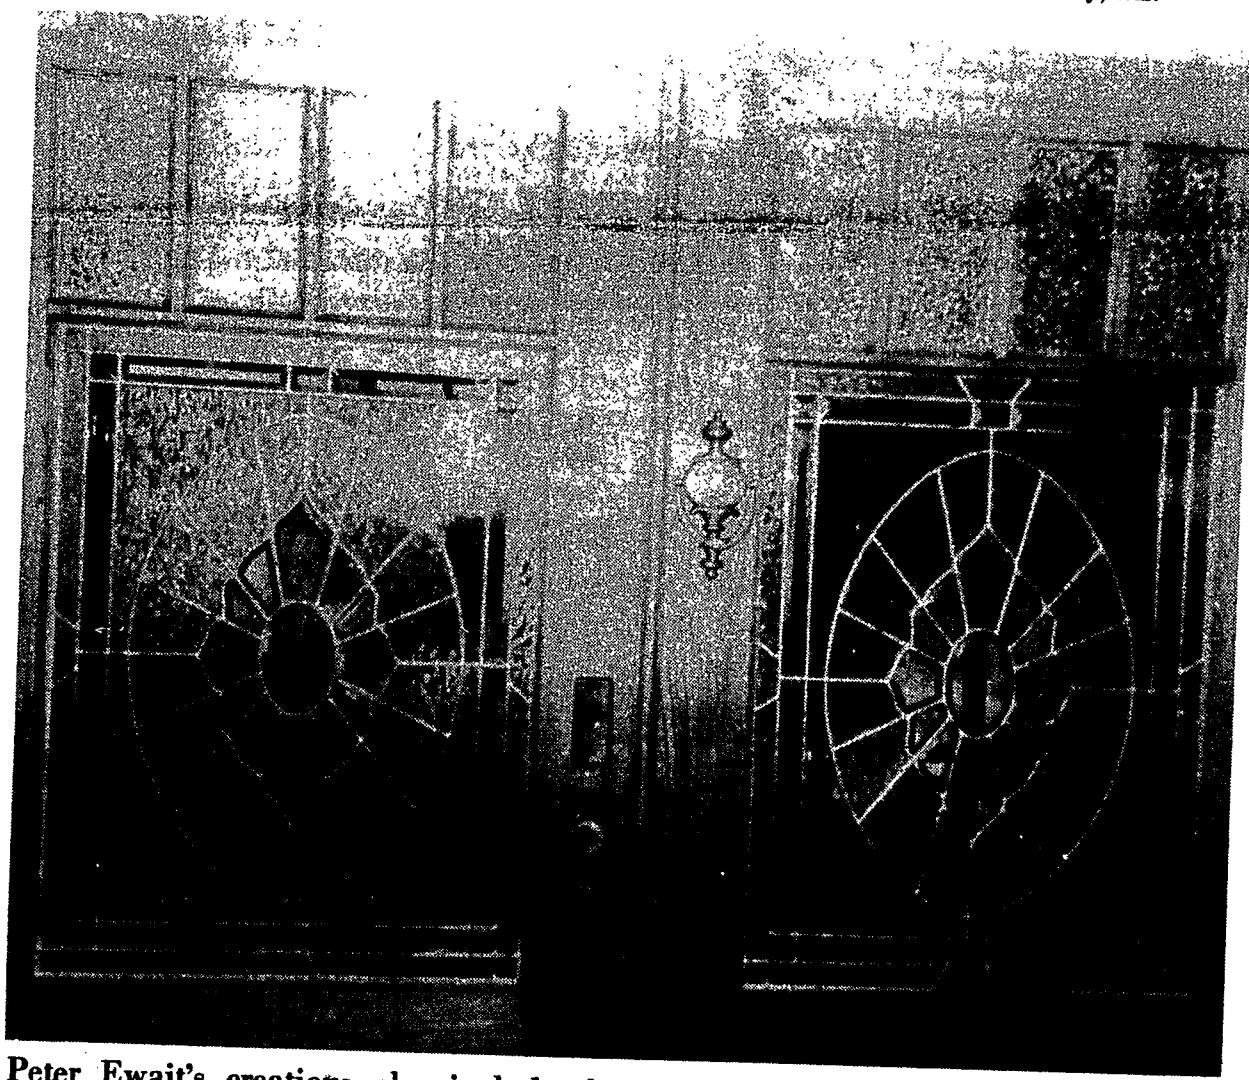

In addition to the classes he teaches in Bay St. Louis, Ewait teaches stained glass classes for the Gulfport Public School Community Education Program.

Prior to turning his hobby into a business, Ewait was an industrial model builder. He built models for nuclear power plants as well as several ships at Ingalls.

Ewait holds a technical degree from North Western Technology Institute in Green Bay, Wis.

Peter Ewait's creations also include this double-door design that is featured at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Fahey on Carroll Avenue.

Fund raising chairman named

Official chairmen have been selected for the Mississippi Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's spring bike-a-thons and other fund-raising events.

The chairmen in Hancock County are Mrs. June Dearman of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. David Yarbrough of Waveland.

"Community chairmen are the key to our goal of finding a cure for cystic fibrosis," said Jimmy Shumaker, president of the board of directors of the Mississippi chapter.

"Your community event is one of many held in Mississippi. Combined, these a-thons raise thousands of dollars to fight cystic fibrosis," Shumaker continued. "I urge all residents to contact the chairman in their area and become involved in this statewide effort."

The money raised from these events will help fund research to determine the genetic causes and treatments for cystic fibrosis, the nation's number one genetic killer of young people.

Cystic fibrosis is an incurable disease which primarily affects the lungs and digestive system.

Thanks to money raised in previous bike-a-thons, this past year saw tremendous strides in cystic fibrosis research. These advances have brought the cure to cystic fibrosis within sight, he added.

This year, Cystic Fibrosis bike-a-thons and other community events are being held nationwide in honor of Alex Deford who died of cystic fibrosis in 1980 at the age of eight. The story of Alex's short, courageous life will be told on an ABC-Television movie airing on Monday, April 21.

"Remember, to participate in these fun and fund-raising events contact the chairman in your area," Shumaker said.

Harmony, a ladies barbershop singing group, will entertain the residents of Hotal Reed and Miramar Nursing Home on Sunday and Tuesday, respectively.

The group will sing at Hotal Reed in Bay St. Louis at 3:30 p.m. and at Miramar in Pass Christian at 6:30 p.m.

"We sing at nursing homes and at any other place we can be of service," said Alberta Hoffman, group coordinator.

Hoffman said membership in the group is open to interested women. For information call 487-3777.

Ladies singing group schedules Reed, Miramar

The multi-dimensional effect is prominent in this window piece located in the Antique Arcade located on South Second Street.

This four-piece entrance way stained glass creation by Peter Wait is an eye-catching addition to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Diboll on Carroll Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

The officers for the 1986 term are Mrs. Minnie Geiger, president; Mrs. Ethel Mae Fillingame, vice president; and Mrs. Marguerite Fayard, secretary-treasurer.

The focus theme was on the history of quilting which was brought to this country by the English pioneers in 1820. Mrs. Helen Pahlman displayed a child's bedspread which she embroidered and Mrs. Minnie Geiger quilted.

Mrs. Beatrice Ladner reported on the county council meeting. Awards were given out in various categories. Mrs. Marguerite Fayard won second place in the dressing of bride dolls.

The tours which are planned for a later date are NASA, Catfish House and Museum, Jackson Brewery, Audubon Zoo, The French Quarter, LSU and Cajun Village.

The membership was asked to save the fronts of greening cards and to send them to St. Jude's Ranch for Children, P.O. Box 985, Boulder City, Nevada 89005-0985.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club observed Arbor Day Feb. 14 with Mrs. John Newkirk, president; Mrs. John Holmes, photographer; and Mrs. George Baud, Arbor Day chairman, planting two crepe myrtle trees in the morning for the Christ Episcopal School on Beach Boulevard. Children ages three through sixth grade were present, with Mrs. Myrna Jordan and teachers.

To help with the planting and presenting a program on the value of trees to the community were Doug Stephens, Soil Conservation Service; Pat Necaise and David Watts from the Mississippi Forestry Commission and Daney Jackson from the Cooperative Extension Service. 'Smokey the Bear,' (Karen Bermond) gave the children handshakes and hugs - a morning well spent.

In the afternoon two more crepe myrtles were planted at St. Clare School in Waveland with kindergarten and first grade students present. Sister Jane gave a prayer for the trees to grow and flourish. Alyce Newkirk read the poem by Joyce Kilmer, 'Trees,' which enthralled the children.

Johnson-Smith

Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian was the setting for the January 12 marriage of Peggy Clair Smith and Charles Richard Johnson Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvert LeRoy Smith of Waveland. Parents of the groom are Rev. and Mrs. Charles Richard Johnson of Bay St. Louis.

Fathers of the bride and groom jointly officiated at the afternoon double ring ceremony.

Decorating the sanctuary were fan shaped arrangements of peach gladioli, white snapdragons and pompons, daisies and peach carnations.

Nuptial music was provided by organist Gary Lamb and soloists John Mason who sang "Ave Maria" and Pamela Smith sang "Only The Beginning" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown. It was fashioned of white velveteen with fitted princess style bodice, boat neckline and long tapered traditional sleeves trimmed with pearl buttons. Her full, gathered skirt featured a modified chapel train. She wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings.

The bride's Juliet cap was covered with seed pearls and held a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a contemporary-style bouquet of calla lilies and freesia with sprengeri fern.

Pamela Smith of Waveland attended her sister as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Betty Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis, sister of the groom; Elizabeth Thompson of Tuscaloosa, Ala., niece of the bride; Mrs. Lori Buehler of Waveland; and Elisa Marble of Long Beach.

Nikki Chapman of Waveland was flower girl.

The attendants were attired in formal gowns of teal satin each with fitted princess basque bodice, sweetheart neckline, mushroom puff fed sleeves and full, circular skirt. They wore small hats of the same fabric custom designed to complement their dresses.

Each bridesmaid carried a single stem of calla lilies with teal ribbon. The flower girl carried a basket of white freesia, white sweetheart roses, baby's breath and teal ribbons.

Kenneth Thompson of Tuscaloosa, Ala., nephew of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Joseph DeAlton Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis, brother-in-law of the groom; David Culpepper and Charles Culpepper of Jackson, brothers-in-law of the groom; Robert Davis of Clermont Harbor.

Serving as usher was Ben Smith of Waveland, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Smith chose for her daughter's wedding an aqua georgette crepe dress with jewel neckline, long, tapered sleeves, surplice bodice enhanced with satin rose applique and belted at the waist with satin.

Mrs. Johnson was attired in a candlelight lace dress with jewel neckline, long sleeves and slightly flared skirt belted with a pale green sash.

A reception followed the ceremony at Trinity Parish House in Pass Christian. Assisting was Dr. Helen Thompson, sister of the groom.

The couple will reside in Diamondhead.

Pre-nuptial parties

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence LeBon of Bay St. Louis was the setting for a miscellaneous shower hosted by Mrs. Joseph Benvenuti, Mrs. Wade Stevens and Mrs. Norman Coward.

Mrs. Pete Chapman and Pamela Smith hosted a linen shower at the Chapman home.

On the eve of the wedding the couple was honored with a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Argus of Bay St. Louis.

ALCOHOLICS DON'T SUFFER BY THEMSELVES...

THE WHOLE FAMILY SUFFERS.

It's not an unusual story. Take a successful individual who has everything going for him. Great family, promising career and life's daily problems he tries to solve with alcohol — and sometimes drugs. Eventually, his problems will grow to include chemical dependency. Can his family handle that?

What about the successful business woman? She's attractive, personable — and an alcoholic. Her favorite hobby — drinking martinis at lunch and after work. How long can she stay on top? Her home life as a wife and mother has already turned into a nightmare for her family.

ALCOHOLICS DON'T SUFFER ALONE.

At GULF OAKS HOSPITAL & CLINIC, chemical dependence is viewed as a family illness and recovery for the entire family is considered essential. If a family member or close friend is destroying their life by alcohol or drug indulgence, they need help. Professional medical help. At GULF OAKS, family involvement is an integral part of our program. Team members work with the family to help them understand the patient's problem as an illness.

DON'T SUFFER ALONE. HELP IS AVAILABLE — AND SO NEAR.
